Astro finance is a method of financial analysis and forecasting based on astrological events, financial market news and Osher's interpretation.

It takes into account the energies of the planets and stars and applies them to financial events and scenarios. The forecasts made with Astro finance aren't necessarily stable but live chart updates allow people to enjoy a more dynamic forecasting experience. This method can be used to improve decision-making and support of investment analysis.

"Live chart" is a feature of the Osher services which grants users access to the TradingView platform.

This feature makes it easy for users to keep track of their portfolios and to make informed trading decisions.

It is recommended that users check the live chart regularly in order to stay up to date on any changes or updates in the markets.

By accessing the live chart, users can monitor their portfolios and track market trends in real time.

Astro finance is a method for predicting financial trends and futures markets by studying astronomical phenomena.

It is not financial advice and does not guarantee profits, however it does provide an indication as to what might happen in the future – in the same way other methods of technical analysis provide an indication.

Therefore, it should not be relied upon solely for decision-making; instead, it should be used in conjunction with other indicators and market knowledge to facilitate risk management.

Combining astro finance with more traditional methods and market understanding will provide a greater insight into the potential outcomes of any investment decisions.
